

Did you know?

A grown-up has 206 bones, but a baby is born with around 300 that slowly join together.