

Did you know?

In Scotland and Ireland, children went 'guising': dressing up and telling a joke or singing a song for a treat.