

Did you know?

Gargoyles were made as water spouts, to carry rainwater away from the walls of buildings.